Dear Cheryl,

Thank you for the discussion via teams. I just want to confirm my understanding based on what we spoke about:

The snippet shared with me by my manager does not apply to my case.

The amount recovered was not considered a deduction but was processed under the principle of “no work, no pay.” This is why the full amount was recovered at once without prior consultation.

Please let me know if this interpretation is correct or if there is anything further.

Thank you for your time and assistance.

Kind regards,

Sr. Wilbur W. Matthee

Good day Wilbur

I hope you're doing well, and thank you for bringing this to my attention.

Please allow me some time to look into the matter—I will revert by the end of the week, and trust that will be acceptable.

Could you kindly confirm whether the salary in question relates to July 2025? Just to clarify, August, September, and October are not in dispute?

Kind Regards

Cheryl-D

Subject: July 2025 Salary dispute, No staggering, over 40%

Dear Cheryl-D,

I am writing to formally dispute the deductions from my salary for July 2025. My usual earnings amount to R36,588.81, with a cost to company of R42,796.13. However, I received a net pay of R15,679.29 after deductions totalling R14,811.77 for unpaid leave and R6,097.75 for other items.

These deductions were applied after I exhausted my sick and annual leave due to a mental health admission. During a one-on-one meeting with Senior Manager Mapule, I became emotional while reporting a statement from my manager that the company “does not allow staggering of payments as it is not a loan company” and that the full amount would be deducted at once.

Additionally, I informed Mapule that my manager also stated I “would not feel the missing chunk in my salary because I receive online deliveries weekly.” This comment was inappropriate and irrelevant to my financial situation and contractual rights. Mapule assured me that she would apply for special leave to assist, but despite this assurance, the deduction of over 40% occurred without consultation or written consent as per Absenteeism, Ill Health, Disability & Incapacity Policy.

I also raised this matter with my union representative, Thando Mandondo, who confirmed that such deductions without consent are illegal under Section 34 of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act (BCEA).

The financial impact has been severe, forcing me to incur additional debt and prolonging my recovery from both emotional and financial hardship.

I kindly request:

1. A detailed breakdown and legal basis for these deductions.
2. Steps to rectify this matter, including reimbursement.

Please treat this matter as urgent.

Thank you for your attention and assistance.

Kind regards,

Sr. Wilbur W. Matthee
