Dear Mr. Holmes,

I am in receipt of your email and the attached Certificate of Service. I wish to formally place on record that I dispute the accuracy of this document and the underlying UI declaration made by my former employer. The certificate is factually incorrect for the following reasons:

Recruitment Intent: As per the attached interview invitation dated 15 January 2024, I was recruited and interviewed specifically for the role of Specialist: Care Manager.

Professional Status: The title "Care Coordinator" on the certificate is a lower-tier designation that does not reflect my actual duties or the NQF Level 8 specialization I brought to the organization.

The Naming Convention: The "Specialist" title was confirmed via a professional naming convention update. The employer's claim that this was not applied to my department is disputed, and a request has been made to the B-BBEE Commission (CC'ed here) to subpoena the recordings of the meetings where these title updates were established.

By declaring a "lower title" to the Department of Employment and Labour, the employer has committed a breach of Section 42 of the BCEA. Furthermore, utilizing a Specialist's credentials for compliance while administratively "grading" that employee as a Coordinator is a hallmark of B-BBEE Fronting/Window Dressing.

I request that this dispute be formally noted. I will not accept a Certificate of Service that misrepresents my professional history and prejudices my future career prospects.

Kind Regards,

Wilbur William Matthee
Nurse Specialist Health Services Management (NQF8)

Good Day,

I have attached for your attention and perusal both the certificate of service and your letter of appointment as received.

Should you dispute the documents and the validity of the two documents then you would have to address your concern at the CCMA.

Regards

Dear Matthew,

Thank you for your email.

Please find the attached interview invitation and documentation confirming the update to the professional naming convention. As previously noted, I was recruited for a Specialist position; however, the title was changed to Care Coordinator at the point of signing without a reasonable explanation. Furthermore, I have confirmed that the naming convention updates were deliberately withheld from my department and that the incorrect title was utilized to support the employer's litigation.

As the CCMA process has concluded, these documents will now be referred to the High Court of the Western Cape for formal review.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Dear Matthew,

Please find attached additional documentation regarding an unlawful salary deduction that exceeded the statutory cap of 25% and was processed without the required consultation or consent. Although the absences occurred in May and early June 2025, the deduction was applied in July 2025.

I also wish to highlight the non-remittance of UIF for June 2025, a matter previously referred to Chief Inspector David Esau and Fezeka Nongalo. A comparison of my July 2025 payslip against the UIF portal reveals that the amounts declared to SARS and the UIF do not appear on my payslip. Furthermore, there appears to be a misrepresentation regarding these payments, as a screenshot of an August remittance was used to suggest that the June obligations had been met.

The discrepancies between the respondent's records and the official data held by your department serve as objective evidence of these irregularities. I request that these documents be included in your review of this matter.

Good Day,

The matter raised in relation to the deduction is noted.

However, the writer is limited in terms of section 70 of issuing a compliance order against the employer for the non-compliance raised.

This is due to the fact that you earn in excess of the threshold as prescribed by the Minister as per section 70(b).

The threshold has been attached for your convenience.

Nb, the UI matter will be referred to UI to delve into the concern raised.
