4. This destitution is not an organic state of affairs; it is the direct, intended consequence of the Respondents actions.
5. The Respondent's ongoing blockade of my statutory safety nets has intentionally stripped me of the financial means to print legal paper or secure transport to a physical station.
6. To reject this digital, electronically signed submission on the basis of a lack of a physical ink stamp would be to permit the perpetrators of institutional fraud to use the financial ruin they inflicted on a whistleblower as a shield against parliamentary oversight.
